While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this program, graduation filing deadlines, printing deadline, and degree audit adjustments can prevent inclusion of graduates' names or may result in publishing names of individuals not completing degree requirements. This program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's official academic or degree status.

*Missouri Governor Jay Nixon
Commencement Speaker*

*J*ay Nixon is serving his first term as Governor of Missouri. Garnering the highest margin of victory for a non-incumbent governor in 44 years, Nixon was elected Missouri's 55th Governor on Nov. 4, 2008.

Gov. Nixon has put forward an agenda to make government more efficient, effective and responsive to the needs of Missouri families. He is committed to attracting the jobs of the future to Missouri, making health care more affordable and placing a college education within reach for middle-class students. The legislature passed Caring for Missourians, an initiative by Gov. Nixon that will enable Missouri's public colleges and universities to graduate an additional 900 professionals in high-demand health care fields each year.

The General Assembly also made permanent the reforms Gov. Nixon enacted during his first week in office when he opened up every license fee office in Missouri for competitive bid, a move that ended a decades-long system of political patronage. Gov. Nixon has championed a strong public education system.

Prior to becoming Governor, Nixon was elected to a record four terms as Missouri's Attorney General, beginning in 1992. Nixon argued before the United States Supreme Court in Nixon v. Shrink, a landmark case that reinstated Missouri's campaign contribution limits and cleared the way nationally for campaign finance reform. One of Nixon's most successful programs, Missouri's popular No-Call List, has become a model for states across the nation to reduce unwanted telemarketing calls.

A native of De Soto, Gov. Nixon was reared in a family of public servants. His mother, the late Betty Nixon, was a teacher and served as president of the local school board. His father, Jerry Nixon, was elected mayor of De Soto and was a judge for the community. After earning both his undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Missouri-Columbia, Nixon returned to DeSoto to practice as an attorney.

In 1986, he was elected to his first term in the Missouri State Senate, where he would represent the people of Jefferson County for six years. Gov. Nixon and his wife, Georganne Wheeler Nixon, have two sons, Jeremiah and Willson.

The first graduates of the cooperative graduate programs received diplomas at Missouri Southern State University during the spring 2006 ceremony. This milestone was possible when MSSU and Northwest Missouri State University collaborated to combine their resources and expand higher education opportunities in Southwest Missouri and the Four-States region.

In addition to Northwest, MSSU has since forged partnerships with Missouri State University, Southeast Missouri State University, University of Missouri – St. Louis and the University of Missouri- Kansas City to unite efforts to deliver the programs with traditional classroom teaching and state-of-the-art distance learning tools using faculty from each of the universities.

Effective August 2003, the Missouri General Assembly passed legislation giving Missouri Southern State University the opportunity to offer joint graduate programs in cooperation with other public four-year institutions in the State of Missouri (RSMo 173.005).

The Coordinating Board for Higher Education oversees implementation of the cooperative programs to ensure the most efficient use of state resources and the highest quality of advanced educational opportunities.

During the ceremony, the presentation of the academic hood to master's degree recipients represents a compelling, highly symbolic moment in both the candidates' lives and in the commencement ceremony. The hooding ceremony for the cooperative graduate programs at MSSU signifies a scholarly and personal achievement. Colors of the hoods were carefully selected to represent both institutions and the corresponding fields of study.

The names of both universities appear on the graduates' diplomas. The significance and symbolism of academic regalia appear on page 14 of this program.

MSSU will continue to develop these and other programs in order to fulfill its mission and to meet the needs of the growing population and economy of the region.

ALMA MATER

Words by Mary Laird,
Class of '39

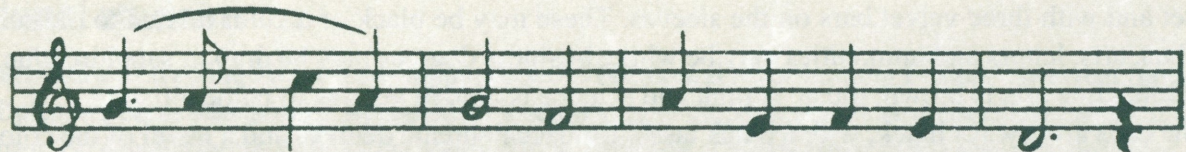

Music by Emerson Jackson,
Class of '39

Our Al - ma Ma - ter, we ho - nor thee, shap - ing and guid - ing our de - sti - ny.

Af - ter we have part - ed as the years roll by;

we'll keep each me - mo - ry hail, hail to thee.

Missouri Southern State University's "Alma Mater" was drafted during the Joplin Junior College second year by a group that included Mary Laird, Joan Epperson, Enos Currey, Ellen Beasley and Emerson Jackson. Laird was principally responsible for the lyrics while Jackson set it to music. It was first sung during a Class-Day program in 1939.

Academic Attire

As early as the twelfth century the first modern universities, at Bologna and Paris, were centers of European learning. The usual garb of the time, for both churchmen and laymen, was a long gown which was necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings of the day. Scholars, generally members of churchorders, wore such robes and also hoods to protect their shaven heads. Later, skull caps were worn on the head, and the hood became a cape which could be pulled over the head in unpleasant weather. The hood was also sometimes used to collect alms from the more affluent members of the community. As additional universities were founded, distinctive forms of the gown and hood were adopted by their faculties. Variations indicated ranks within the institutions. Strict rules were published and in some cases punishment cited for tailors who departed from the authorized design.

The academic hat was a later development, adapted from the headdress of the ordinary people. Academically, it was originally worn as a symbol of the master's degree, and existed in various forms: some were round, some square and some had a tuft in the center. The flat, square "mortar board" of today originated at Oxford University in England.

Academic costume came to America in 1754 with the founding of King's College, now Columbia University. Styles became quite varied as they were in Europe, but in 1895 a group of American college and university representatives met to establish a uniform system of academic apparel for this country. This led to the establishment in 1902 of an "Intercollegiate Code of Academic Costume." The American Council of Education formed a committee in 1932 to review the 1895 code, which was again reviewed and revised in both 1960 and 1965.

There are today three basic types of gowns and hoods. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed. Recipients of the associate degrees wear gray gowns designed like the bachelor's gown. The master's gown is designed with an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist and with an arc cut away at the front of the sleeve. It may be worn either open or closed. The doctoral gown is of a full design with voluminous sleeves, and it also may be worn open or closed. Unlike the other two, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and with three velvet bars on the sleeves. These may be black or a color related to the subject of the degree. Thus, arts, letters and humanities may be white, business degrees may be drab or sapphire blue, education uses light blue, fine arts is brown, music is pink and science is golden yellow, to name a few.

The caps are always black, with a black tassel for baccalaureate degrees and a tassel of the color indicated above for master's. Doctoral caps usually have a tassel of metallic gold color.

The hoods worn by master's degree recipients are lined with the official colors of the institution awarding the degree. The binding and edging of the hood is silk or velvet in the color pertaining to the subject area. Doctoral hoods are longer and designed somewhat fuller, but the colors again are those of the institution granting the degree for the lining, and of the subject for the wide edging. There exists a small bachelor's hood, but generally it is not used in this country.

The hoods represented in MSSU ceremonies are a combination of colors from each of the collaborating institutions. Traditional colors and corresponding fields of study are:

Brown:	Fine Arts
Crimson:	Journalism
Dark Blue:	Philosophy
Golden Yellow:	Science
Lemon Yellow:	Library Science
Light Blue:	Education
Pink:	Music
Purple:	Law
Sage Green:	Physical Education
Scarlet:	Theology
White:	Arts, Letters, Humanities
Yellow Brown:	Commerce, Business, Accountancy

Points of Pride

Quality faculty and academic programs ...

Five members of Missouri Southern's Student Senate won the championship trophy in a Leadership Challenge this spring at Washburn University in Topeka, Kan. The five were presented with a campus crisis scenario and were asked to respond by acting the parts of campus personnel members. Participating students included Darrell Sour, senior Marketing major, Joplin; Samantha Quackenbush, senior Psychology major, Salina, Kan.; Johnathan Saunders, junior Political Science major, Neosho; Sheena Phillips, senior Human Resource management major, Joplin; and Kisa Clark, senior Mass Communications major, Neosho.

Outstanding athletic programs ...

The Missouri Southern Athletics Department secured the Sonic Trophy for the second consecutive year. The Sonic Trophy Series is a cooperative effort between MSSU, Pittsburg State University (Kan.) and Sonic to honor the athletics department that performs the best throughout the year. One point is awarded in each of the 13 sports in which both departments compete.

MSSU men's basketball coach Robert Corn earned his third Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association (MIAA) Coach of the Year honor. He won his 350th career game in a win to end the regular season and led the Lions to their seventh 20-win season. Southern won the third most games in a regular season and advanced to the school's second NCAA postseason tournament. The Lions won the MIAA Regular Season Title and advanced to the round of 32 in the NCAA Tournament.

The Lions swept the MIAA post season awards as Skyler Bowlin, senior Secondary Education – Physical Education major from Paragould, Ark., was the unanimous MIAA Player of the Year, while also repeating as MIAA Defensive Player of the Year and Marquis Addison, freshman undeclared major from Olathe, Kan., was the league's Freshman of the Year. Bowlin was named to three-different All-American teams and was a finalist for the National Player of the Year. Bowlin later signed a contract with the BG Leitershofen/Stadtbergen Red Kangaroos, a professional basketball team in Augsburg, Germany.

Exceptional students ...

Darrell Sour, senior Marketing major from Joplin, received the annual "Outstanding Leader" Award at the 20th annual Glenn D. Dolence Leadership/Service Recognition Assembly. Sour currently serves as president of the Missouri Southern Student Senate. He is philanthropy chair of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, a values-based men's fraternity dedicated to fostering meaningful college experiences and the four pillars of fellowship, leadership, scholarship and service.

Alexandra "Alex" Reed, Neosho, has been named "Outstanding Graduate" by the Missouri Southern Alumni Association. Alex, a senior Elementary Education major, also has attained additional certification in TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) - K-12. In addition to being an Honors Program student, she has been actively involved in Project S.P.E.A.K. (Speaking Proficiently Enables All Kids). She was named the Outstanding Officer of the Year for the State of Missouri by the Student-Missouri State Teacher's Association (S-MSTA).

Successful graduates ...

Betsy Banks Saul, '91, (Biology), co-founded the website petfinders.com that helps find homes for unwanted pets that end up in animal shelters or with breed rescue groups. Her efforts have been the focus of features on major news and entertainment programs, such as the Today Show and the Ellen DeGeneres Show.

Sharon Plummer, '76, (Biology), after earning her MBA from the University of Houston and retiring from an 18-year career with Exxon and Exxon Mobile, uses her artistic abilities to create mosaics, some of which were featured on an Extreme Home Makeover program.
